Dear Will:

Thank you for the excellent job you did selling my family's collectible books in your online auction last month. We were quite pleased with the results of the sale. As a matter of fact, the books sold for quite a bit more than we expected.

We were glad to see the first class photographs and descriptions your company provided to potential bidders on your website. The bidding format is very straightforward and encouraged a great deal of competition that clearly benefited us.

I'll be contacting you once we have determined the next items we would like to sell. In addition, I would be pleased to speak to anyone who is considering hiring you to sell items from their collection or estate.

Thanks again for your help.

Yours truly,
